

Year 3 Homework - 07.02.25

TTRockstars

This week, we have continued work on multiplication and division in maths. Spend some time on TTRockstars practising your times tables. There will be house points available to those who have a try.

Literacy

This week, we began our independent write. I would like you to design a cover for the chapter of the room you have described with the characters in it.

P.E

Continue to remain active by completing your WOW active challenge card. Don't forget, once it is completed, you can bring it to me and we can put you on the next level.

Topic launch

After the half term break, we will be starting our new topic 'Gods&Mortals'. We will be launching our topic by having a dress up day as a Greek God or Goddess. Start to have a think about a costume you could wear.

Homework due on Wednesday
12th February.
